Sheila would go to Ernie's to drink coffee, do crossword puzzles and to write in her journal, as she had for years, EVEN as the WEIRD CURVE wound, STILL she knew it not

..... and read books. Somehow, this did not fulfill all of her needs. Once again

... CURVE was trying to say that it was trying to do with the realization of the manifestation of self-imposed belief systems which limit personal growth and expanded consciousness.

REMEMBER:

Ann was in love with her first Mr. Intense, a reclusive genius that liked to withdraw and read books. Somehow, this did not fulfill all of her needs. Once again

... Ann thought she was just depressed.
